THE LIBERTARIAN
PARTY

T. Suzanne Shaw
Reports Analyst
Federal Election Commission
Washington, DC 20463

Dear Ms. Shaw:

I am writing in response to your letter of August 30, 1995. As you point out, we have been failing to include Schedule H3 in our filings this year. We have been mistakenly reporting the transfers on Schedule A. We should have filed a Schedule H3 for the six reports starting with our March Monthly (2/1/95-2/28/95) through our July Monthly (7/1/95-7/31/95). I enclose the six Schedule H3's that we should have filed. In future filings, we will report the transfer correctly.

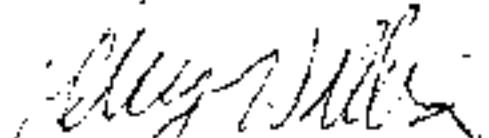

You also ask about our compliance with FEC "best efforts" guidelines. We request the name, mailing address, occupation and employer each time we solicit money from individuals and we also inform them that the reporting of such information is required by law. I enclose the response card from our most recent fundraising mailing to give you an example of the kind of solicitations we make. I can provide further examples if you wish.

We also send a follow-up mailing to every individual who goes over the $200 reporting threshold to verify their mailing address, occupation and employer. I enclose a copy of the mailer we use (a printed address label is placed in the white space that shows through the window in the envelope).

Our FEC identification number is C00255695.

If you have any further questions, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Yours,

Perry Willis
National Director

THE LIBERTARIAN PARTY

Dear Contributor:

Thanks again for your recent contribution to the Libertarian Party!

As you may be aware, federal law requires political parties to report to the Federal Election Commission the name, address, employer and occupation of all individuals who give over $200 to the party in a calendar year. You are receiving this letter because you are over the reporting threshold.

The FEC introduced a new restriction effective March 1, 1994, requiring follow-up mailings to obtain employer and occupation information if it is not in our database. We are sending this letter to obey that law. In addition, we have decided to send a follow-up postcard even when the information is in the database so that we can verify its correctness. We believe this will make it less likely that we will have any audit problems with the FEC in the future.

I'm sure you hate to see the party spending its resources on this as much as I do, but by returning the enclosed postcard you will, in an inexpensive way, provide important documentation that we have met our legal obligations.

The label with your address on it has a notation at the top that indicates your status in our database. Here is what the various codes mean:

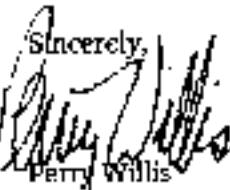

Need emp — We have occupation information in our database, but need employer.

Need occ — We have employer information in our database, but need occupation.

Need emp&occ — We need both employer and occupation information.

Verify emp/occ — We have both employer and occupation information in our database, but we wish to verify its correctness by having you give us your current information.

Even if you do not need to supply us with any new information, please drop the postcard in the mail so that we will have a record of having contacted you. The postcard is already addressed and the postage is already paid. Thanks for your time!

Sincerely,

Perry Willis
